

Fire Safety and Fire Marshall Courses

Firepoint UK Fire Safety and Fire Marshall Courses offer dynamic training events that are thorough, professional and expertly presented. On completion your staff will be well trained and well briefed to address their fire emergency duties and responsibilities.

In 2005 the Government deregulated Fire Safety so that it is now in effect an extension of Health and Safety in the Workplace. As a result, the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 requires you to record, plan, instruct, inform and train your personnel.

Backed by 30 years of experience in the Fire Service and Institute of Fire Engineers, Firepoint UK Courses will deliver clear concise advice and training for your personnel that will enable them to respond effectively and professionally in the event of fire.

We have a range of standard courses or we can create a bespoke course at a free pre-course consultation where we will explore your precise requirements with regard to content, scheduling, duration and approach.

We will advise and suggest solutions so that the training enhances and supports your personnel to ensure best value. Each successful delegate will receive a Firepoint UK Attendance Certificate. Continuity training and trouble-shooting sessions are available by arrangement.

Why not ring us and book a free consultation?

A dark grey banner with a red rectangular area on the left containing the text 'Firepoint UK' in white, with 'the fire safety experts' in smaller white text below it. To the right of the red area, the text 'Tel: 0800 917 10 56' is displayed in white.

Firepoint UK
the fire safety experts

Tel: 0800 917 10 56